

Curriculum Vitae

Personal Information

Full Name: Leonidas Maroulis
Date of Birth: 21/9/1992
E-mail: leomaroulis@gmail.com

Education

2012- 2017. BSc in Biology. Department of Biology, University of Crete, Greece.

2017-2019. MSc in "Environmental Biology: Management of marine and terrestrial biological resources", Department of Biology, University of Crete, Greece

2020 – Phd Candidate. Department of Biology, University of Crete, Greece
Title: “Biogeography of land snails in the Aegean archipelago, with a special focus on human impact”.

Computer Skills

R, SPSS, Microsoft Office, Corel

Languages

English (fluent – Certificate of Proficiency)

French (good – Delf B1)

Scientific Publications

Maroulis L, Mylonas M & Vardinoyannis K. (2021). Species–area relationships of the Aegean, a comparative approach between six taxa. Frontiers of Biogeography (accepted) doi:10.21425/F5FBG52929

Participation in scientific conferences

Maroulis L, Mylonas M, Dalias P & Vardinoyannis K. 2017. Land snails of Rhodes, Symi and Chalki islands (SE Aegean). Euromal. 8th European Congress of Malacological Societies. 10-14 September 2017, Krakow, Poland (poster).

Maroulis L, Mylonas M & Vardinoyannis K. 2018. Species-area relationship of the land snails on the Aegean islands Helecos. 9^o Panhellenic Conference of Ecology. 4-7 October 2018. Heraklion, Crete (oral presentation in greek).

Maroulis L, Mylonas M & Vardinoyannis K. 2019. Species-Area relationship of the Aegean: a multimodel and multitaxa approach. ICZEGAR, 14th International Congress on the Zoogeography and Ecology of Greece and Adjacent Regions. 27-30 June 2019 Thessaloniki, Greece (oral presentation).

Maroulis L, Vardinoyannis K, Poulakakis N. 2021. Exploring nestedness in the malacofauna of five island subgroups on the Aegean archipelago. 10^o Panhellenic Conference of Ecology. 14-17 October 2021 (oral presentation in greek).